

“Opportunity is missed by most people because it is dressed in overalls and looks like work”

Thomas A. Edison

Consultancy

Metice consultants endeavor to provide realistic, commercial management solutions to all our clients.

We do this by applying:

- Realistic, commercial, business knowledge
- Exceptional Influencing and Interpersonal skills
- Practical, pragmatic business focused approach
- Organisational change techniques
- Accelerated learning processes
- Transferable skills and techniques for others to follow
- Innovative, analytical thinking

The Metice consultant will adopt the following role:

- They are flexible, adaptable and extremely responsive to the needs of our business.
- They are very professional, flexible and committed. They make it their business to understand your business and your people.
- They will make it their business to understand your business and your people.
- They adopt a consistent approach to client communication: one dedicated consultant will accompany you on your organisation's journey, while the other members of our team will be fully aware of you, your needs and your progress, every step of the way.

The Metice team of experienced consultants are dedicated to one thing only: your success! We're here to help you define, refine and action the support you need for the success of your people and your business.

We seek to understand the business needs of our clients, meet and match the changing demands of the organisation and the industrial sectors they operate within.

Call for further information and to discuss your requirement